TITUSVILLE, Tuesday Eve, Oct. 31, 1865.

The demand on New York for funds drew down all loanable last week, owing to the withdrawal of [illegible] investments from speculators in produce, and certain which has enforced sales of the same, and relieved the market of weak and needy borrowers. The bankers out west are doing all in their power to induce the holders of greenbacks to sell, and they refuse to grant loans to speculators in produce. This prudent policy has checked the western drain on New York city for currency. The foreign exports of produce from that port for the week ending October 21, amounted to eighteen [illegible] which over $1,000,000 was in cotton, and since then it is reported that the amount is quite as large and will mainly for the futed, or about $11,000,000 in currency, paid to the [illegible] of $7,000,000 in gold. ## The Anti-War Debt of the South.

Hardly any of the English rebel bondholders seem to be willing to acknowledge their status, and hence it is refreshing to turn to a class of creditors with whom concealment is not necessary, and who, for that, doubtless other reasons, have publicly avowed their claims. These gentlemen are part owners of the unfortunate debt of the Southern States. The correct done, they are naturally trying to discover the means of obtaining the accrued interest due to them, and the ultimate payment of the principal. A meeting of these creditors was lately held at the London Tavern to devise the ways and means. Because ways are important and means are absolutely necessary, to secure those results. The Chairman, Mr Edward Hadewood, stated the objects of the meeting, and furnished a general statement of the amount due, which, as stated by him, comes to about £20,000,000. It is proper to note that Missouri is set down for £3,000,000. The list only included "those debts which for more than a quarter of a century had been in existence." The arrears of interest claimed "could not be less than four million sterling." A gentleman present, Dr. Black, who claimed to be a native of the South, went on to a somewhat elaborate exposition of the resources, products and climate of the section owing the money, and while asserting that he had always been a Union man, deplored the success of movement as a great blunder. Up to the time of the war the interest had been regularly paid. The present object of the meeting was to procure the bonding of the accrued interest up to date, with coupons payable in London. According to the statement of the Chairman, he had resided in his early years upon "or in the neighborhood of many of the spots which had since become famous as the battle fields of the South." In this case, the principal, interest and actual knowledge are blended. The meeting seems to have been well conducted, and being convened for a lawful purpose, and one, moreover, not forbidden by good morals, the proceedings are entitled to very favorable consideration. In one aspect, however, it was slightly ludicrous. The Chairman enlarged upon the qualities which ought to be possessed by the committee to be appointed for the purpose of carrying out the objects of the assembly. "The individual chosen should have the advantage of having personally been a resident in the States, or he should represent some large and influential interest in those debts." In the course of the meeting he moved that a committee be appointed, and he named himself as one of that body.

Mr. Hadewood may be quite well acquainted with the South, but his course reminds us forcibly of Dr Goldsmith, the most genial of English writers. He and Dr Johnson were engaged in a conversation about the lost arts, and the possibility of finding traces of them in the Orient. Goldsmith went on descanting upon the subject, and pointing out the qualifications needed by the person who should be commissioned to go in search of them, having himself in mind all the time — When he had left, Dr Johnson said, there is Goldsmith, who has been talking of going in quest of the lost arts, and intimating that he is a fit person to undertake the enterprise. Why, sir, he knows so little about the arts that he would return with a grinding barrow, and would think he had made a great discovery.

The claims of these anti-war creditors ought to be paid. The good qualities of our common race are our common heritage. If the debts were valid before the rebellion, they are so now, and there is no answer to say the South is impoverished. They will not be asked to make immediate payment of the principal, but to provide for the liquidation of the interest, in other words, to pay what is honestly due. Nor can Northern men who settle at the South justly complain of moderate taxation for that purpose, for the money having gone into public improvements, from which they must in time reap some benefit, and from the fact of having bought lands cheaply, or engaging in business with large profits, they can afford to help to remove the public burdens. There is no violation of principle in satisfying these claims, but on the contrary, a refusal to do so would be a gross departure from rectitude. The London Committee are of the opinion that the resources of the Southern States can be so managed as to clear away the indebtedness in about thirty years, and we hope this may be done. The South, stocked with men, brains and vigor from the North, and free from debt, will recover from her prostration and loom with wealth as of yore.

A CONTEMPORARY who appears to be well informed on the subject states that the price of Pennsylvania coal, broken, screened and delivered near the works, has not risen since the present year, and at no time last year was it over $8 per ton. "Those who pay $15 per ton for coal can really guess by whom the profits are reaped. A considerable portion of them go into the coffers of the Pennsylvania railroad companies, which charge their coals per ton for its freight."

—CONSIDERABLE excitement has been occasioned in New York by the publication of a military map, which is said to show the routes of a visit of Asiatic cholera, the district in which it is most likely to rage, are among the fashionable districts of the city, where houses are built upon made land, where the sewerage is exceedingly imperfect, and where all conditions are favorable for disease of a malignant character.

—Mrs. Mary Harris, the heroine of the Bancroughs shooting tragedy, in Washington, is now residing in Richmond. She follows the occupation of a milliner, and has apparently quite recovered from her calamity. There was a mistake in her name, it is stated.

—William Lloyd Garrison has received a commission from the Freedmen's Society, to represent that cause in Europe. As he thinks the "Liberator" need no longer be published, it is probable he will accept this new branch of his labors.

—Major Haddock, who has been for some time imprisoned at Elmira, N. Y., on charge of being a defaulter while in charge of that post, has paid back $10,000 and been released.

THE FLORENCE

It has many improvements over any and all Sewing Machines.

It is the most simple and feeding the cloth either to the right or left or stop it at any point to suit the work it is sewing. It takes far different stitches than Lock Stitch Machines. It makes a Double Lock Stitch on both sides of the fabric. Its stitches are all positive, so that the kind of thread fastens without chasing or tension. Remember, with this feed, the Double Lock Stitch is alike on both sides, and is as much a stitch as the Lock Stitch.

PETROLEUM ASSOCIATION, OF TITUSVILLE.

PROSPECTUS.

GEORGE B. REED & CO, having purchased twenty two acres of good oil territory in fee in one of the best localities on Pithole Creek, which is now proven to be the best oil territory in Pennsylvania, and known to be a part of the Anderson farm, lying on the side Pithole Creek, adjoining the Titusville Theatre, and now subdivided into small acre lots for the purpose of leasing to those who desire to risk the money to win the fortune. Shake Spearе says

"Fortune is a tide in the affairs of men
Which taken at the flood leads on to fortune
Omitted, all the voyage of their lives
Is bound in shallows and in miseries"

The truth of this sentiment is being has been most signally illustrated by the discoveries of this Oil Boroughs. Having had a wide observation and experience in the oil region, and finding, all trades and professions, and occupations, to be subordinate to the oil business, we have concluded to embark in the business ourselves, and have selected Pithole City, as the most favorable point for the operation, as it is the most central point in the oil region, and the most accessible by rail, and the most prolific in oil.

The above described property we propose as a basis for the formation of an association, to be called the National Petroleum Association.

Modes of Development. — Immediately after the Association is formed, we will commence putting down wells, we have ourselves to furnish all materials for putting down ONE WELL to be called the MERCHANTMAN WELL and to sink the same to 500 feet, unless oil is found in paying quantities at those depths, and to test for ten days after sold well shall have been completed, the well to be commenced immediately after the organization of this association, and to be prosecuted night and day, till completed, after which we hereby agree to surrender the same, together with the machinery and tools, to the association, free of all expense. We desire to survey the property into one half acre lots and furnish the Association with map of survey. It is confidently believed that the said lots can be leased for a handsome bonus reserving one half of the oil to the land interest. Time will be readily seen that there can be no certain risk to the stockholders, in the profits of the well when completed, together with the bonus received from the sale of the leases, will, no doubt, not only exceed the cost of the territory, but make a handsome dividend to the stockholders. Again the stockholders have doubled interests (multiplied) so there can be no over issuing of stock.

Land in this vicinity is rapidly rising in value, and it is confidently believed that each share in this association will readily sell for at least six times its original cost within a short time.

The capital of the association shall be Fifty Thousand Dollars, and there shall be One Hundred Shares, the original cost of which shall be Five Hundred Dollars each, and each share shall be entitled to one vote, and the association shall be immediately organized by the appointment of President and Secretary, who shall hold a regular certificate of stock, and substitute the same for the receipt given by the agent in trust.

From the Titusville HERALD

A New Organization.

Rival oil companies with high sounding names and overgrown capitals have done more harm to the true interest of the oil region than any other agency. But, fortunately, no such artificial Providence which has our interests have been hawked at, and cruelly killed by these monstrosities, while it is universally conceded that there is not a small handbook in the oil city, unprotected to take a stand upon a solid and substantial basis.

We take pleasure in calling public attention to a new kind of organization, originated by Messrs. George B. Reed & Co. of this borough. These gentlemen have purchased oil territory in fee, and made stock in the individual interests, so that the stockholders know exactly what they hold in the association. The property is divided by a deed of trust, and the interests of the association with the names of the stockholders, are to be recorded. This will prevent so over issue of stock, and secure a permanent investment. If the property is worked with judgment. They have sold a lot of land on Pithole which they are now stocking in such an association which they propose leasing on a royalty of half, or present cost and keep the value, for a rise of market, in hopes the lots to make a profitable investment for their share holders.

NEW DOUBLE ACTING

OIL PUMP

AND GAS EJECTOR.

WE have just completed arrangements with the Patentees of this improved pump for the introduction into the Oil Regions of Pennsylvania. This pump is double acting, throwing the oil at both the upward and downward strokes of the piston, and producing nearly double the amount of oil than by the common pump. It also requires less power than the common pump to produce a greater amount of oil. The furnishes an escape for the surplus gas and thus enables the pump to work without being cut off thereby, and thus saves the breaking of piston rods, destroying of valves, bursting of seed bags and pulling by the force of the gas. The suction or drafts of these pumps is not only much greater than that of any other pump but is also

OUTER BARREL

CONTINUOUS,

(not being broken or controlled by the DOWNWARD STROKE OF THE PISTON) and has a power to draw the oil from the cavities from the well much quicker by one or two pumps, as may now be used. Owing to the low price of oil it has been decided to reduce the price of these pumps for the present from $300 to $275.

By a long course of study and practical experience Dr. R. has won the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never failed since he first introduced them, to cure the most alarming cases and that in a very short and reasonable time, without the aid of mercury or any other deleterious drug. Within the last fifty years Dr. R. has cured more than one hundred and forty thousand cases of the above character, and it may be said safely that more than one half of the patients had been previously treated with mercury and other mischievous drugs.

Editorial Notes—Oil City to Pithole City.

PITHOLE, Oct 29th, 1865

I wrote you last from Tarr Farm, sending statistics of the oil production of that famous tract, and voyaged thence to Oil City, "doubling the cape," so to speak, on the steamer Petrolia No 2, and reaching Oleopolis in time for the Pithole stage. Among other points worthy of particular mention in "oil letters," is the property, three and a half miles above Plumer. Five wells are going down, one of which has reached a depth of 200 feet, with as favorable indications as have encouraged the oil miner in this section. The well known Benton well is reported at 40 barrels. The Lyons well is being tested. The Long well, just struck, is doing 30 barrels. There is on a line with the U. S. and Old Noble well. The first well of the struck a vein of gas and oil at 180 feet.

The present production of the Cherry Run is claimed as 1,400 barrels. A new well has been struck on the Curtin property, South farm, and is said to be flowing 100 barrels. Two others rated at 25 and 35 respectively were struck a fortnight since. It is worthy of note that the three last named are on the summit of the hill 200 feet higher than the level of Cherry Run on Oil Creek.

OIL CITY

Is manifestly less busy and prosperous than Titusville, and business men generally are complaining of dull trade. The hotels, however, are thronged as usual, and the people are confident of a bustling revival of commercial enterprise.

A daily paper is soon to be started by Mr Johns of the Register, and this of itself must impart a new impetus to the general prosperity. There is no depression in consequence of the rival claims of Reno, the plucky citizens of the older borough declaring that they can hold their own against every competitor on the Allegheny. The

is to be put through with extraordinary despatch. Major General A. J. Burnside, illustrious in the war annals, is President of the Company, the charter for which was obtained under the name of the Mill Creek R R Co. The length of the road will be 10½ miles and the route from Reno up Shaffer Run to the head of Coquinitas Run thence down Coquinitas Run to Oil Creek up Oil Creek to Russellville, thence up Horse Run to Plumer, and down Mineral Run to Pithole City. The grade of the road will vary from the natural level to 100 feet per mile. There will be no curve under 900 feet radius. There will be some 3,000 feet of trestling on the line, and one truss bridge over Oil Creek 200 feet long. Mr D. B. Culver is the Chief Engineer on the construction, and the work will be done by the Company. Seven hundred men will be put on, and the road will be in running order within ninety days.

PETROLIA NO TWO

is the name of the little River village, which lies between Oil City and Oleopolis, under command of Captain U. Watson. The accommodations, under the management of Mr J. C. Cox, clerk, are all that could be desired. Among the passengers on the occasion, I noticed the Messrs Phillips, of Corry, and H. Jackson, Esq Teller of the First National Bank of Titusville, on a tour of visitation to the banks of the Oil Region.

OLEOPOLIS

is one of those crude municipal creations peculiar to the oil section, and which have the audacity of being "right down" on the sagacious and enterprising population of the settled districts. Oleopolis is the Pithole City of three months ago. Pithole in short skirts and not the diminutive of pantaloons, but rapidly emerging to mature proportions and the dazzling splendors of a metropolitan department. We found Wm Overfield, Jr, the intelligent and affable President of the Company, at his official quarters, absorbed in business negotiations looking to the rapid expansion of his wonderful enterprise, and somewhat distance the office of the

PENNSYLVANIA TUBING AND TRANSPORTATION COMPANY,

of which Hon J. Casey, Chief Justice of the Court of Claims, is President, Col Thos. Griffiths, Vice President, and Mr J. N. Tuttle, Chief Engineer. Our readers have already had an elaborate description of this important enterprise, which was originated by Col Bliss, and will very soon be in successful operation throughout the oil region. The achievement is original in its conception, practical in its execution and creditable to the intelligence and enterprise of its projector. Oleopolis, as the terminus of the line, will share the

PITHOLE AND OLEOPOLIS RAILROAD,

must rapidly expand into a flourishing city. A few weeks ago it was unbroken wildwood. Now it presents an luxurious clearing, and the cries of the wood chopper's axe, the glow of the smithy's forge, and the ring of the builder's implements as he skillfully fashions the habitations of civilization, are testimonials to American thrift and enterprise, no where surpassed. The grading of the railroad is now fully completed to Pithole City, and the construction of the bridges, and laying of ties and track alone remain to be accomplished. The rolling stock of the road is contracted for, and but a short time will elapse before the screech of the locomotive will put the finishing stroke of transformation upon the once favorite hunting grounds of Corn planter.

PITHOLE CITY

There are a great many ways of reaching Pithole City, but if Jordan is a hard road to travel than the stage route from Oleopolis, than Jordan can "take the cakes"—mud cakes. But the stages of Lawrence & Tickner are as substantial and comfortable as can well be provided. The livery and stage company of this firm are stationed at Oleopolis, and passengers can be accommodated with any style of outfit which they prefer.

The Chase House is, as usual, crowded with guests, and the work on the extension is being rapidly prosecuted to completion. Mr Pond supervises the establishment and meets the popular want and expectation in all hotel requirements. Mr. Brown is still in the office, polite and attentive to all guests, and "filling the bill" with acceptation.

Mr. Helmer occupies the fine basement of this hotel as a billiard saloon, which is furnished and decorated throughout in model style, and is always crowded with the votaries of this attractive sport.

Among the public enterprises which are exciting much attention, and the completion of which is regarded with general importance, is the

of which Ch Mayor King, of Erie, is President, F. B. Elwood, of the First National Bank of Pithole City, the Vice President, and J. C. Nelson the Secretary. The Reservoir is on the crest of the hill and of a capacity for 15,000 barrels. Ninety men are employed in the company. A well has been struck capable of supplying every possible demand or contingency. The reservoir is nearly completed and the laying of the street mains is progressing as rapidly as possible. The capital stock of the Association is $100,000, and it is estimated to pay fifteen per cent a month on the investment. The Company expect to begin operations by the 15th of November.

THE DUNCAN HOUSE

This new hotel, on First street, was opened about ten days since, and is already enjoying a patronage indicative of solid comforts and a long continued prosperity. The house is of magnificent proportions, being 50 feet front by 80 feet deep, and four stories in height, besides basement. It is plastered throughout, the walls being of hard finish and lofty ceilings, the woodwork hard wood grained—all the sleeping apartments spring bedded and handsomely furnished. It has accommodations for 200 guests, and was erected at a cost of $40,000. Mr J. J. Hitch is proprietor. The house is named in honor of Col J. P. Duncan, whose public spirit and practical business enterprise have rendered his name "without a peer" throughout the oil region. The hotel is conducted by Messrs Barber and Henderson, gentlemen of ample experience in this profession and in every way worthy the public patronage.

VISITING THE WELLS

This morning, in company with Col Duncan we visited the two farms which comprise the oil bearing properties of Pithole proper, viz: the Holmden, Home farm (or Hiner) McKinney Pill Money and Rood.

The Holmden is now producing about 1,000 barrels per day, of which the celebrated Pool well is one. The largest on the Creek yields 120 bbls. The Grant (No 10) 2,100 bbls. An inspection of the petroleum spring is well worth the trouble and hard which it involves. Your cloak is more or less of a mass and in spite of wonder not imagined with spirit relaxation that you think will surely come, take in the whole tout ensemble in a single view from the gulch. As you swell the scene a dim vision of Lake Erie's placid terra firma and retreat with less caution from precipitation. No 10 still trickles secreted from the efforts of the diurnous tube which detained thirteen dirty rocks, and altogether $ 00,000 in property.

The Homestead, which was the ground well struck on Pithole, and stopped a war supposed at the time from taking rapid to the front has never been restored. It was the hole in which Walter Bennett had an interest and he was probably working, in the same circle, at the time of the oil pension.

Opposite No 10 is discover I now well on the Hiner farm, flowing 400 barrels. The once famous United States, the original well on Pithole, is now down, 6 barrels. All the tanks (twenty four) and upwards of this well are effectually sealed and housed but the tunnels of the pipe are not painted. Nos 1 and 5, near U. S., have their tanks on. No 13 is testing. The twin (Nos 1 and 2) are doing 300 barrels. Are nothing pay on Pithole (by-the-way)?

No 13 Holmden Pushing No 73, pumping 80 barrels. No 77, flowing 120 bbls, (Dr Bishop.) No 42 doing between 40 and 50 bbls. No 61, Homestead, flowing, 50 bbls, 61 testing, 60 pumping, 61 flowing. Nos 104, 106, 108, 111 on Water's Run producing from 2 to 40 bbls. Rooker 110, flowing 60, 101 going down, do 108, 2,001 in the 17, next Twins, both in 16 producing 800. 15 flowing 200, Rooker 108 (250 bbls) has been retubed. Seven new wells are going down on the Summerson and Pratt tract.

Well No 5, Mineral run has commenced flowing and has rapidly risen. New tanks are being put up with all possible dispatch and expectation is on tiptoe as to the final result. Such excitement. No 5, Moore the first well struck, is rated at 250 barrels. Such roads not drawn. No 11, McKinney, stopped. Island well (McKinney) 300 barrels. No 9 McKinney, 75 barrels. But enough of wells. Mineral run's success is a house of

At the office of Summer & Pratt I found the senior member of that enterprising firm. The same gentleman is a member of the firm of Sumner & Clark of Tarr farm. Mr Sumner is slowly identified with the developments of the Petroleum region, and takes active interest in every enterprise that contributes to its increasing prosperity.

At the office of Col Duncan we found Mr Thos Duncan, of the firm of Duncan & Potter, late of the 8th regiment of the 1 Holmden farm, which was lately purchased by Wright & Children of Chicago. Mr Duncan has made his mark and is about to retire from active business pursuits.

THE RAILROADS

The office of Sumner & Pratt is at the terminus of the new railroad, which is to connect with the Plumer road, crossing Rooker to the Reynolds farm, and running thence the Allegheny.

2d You have the road previously described running from the mouth of Pithole creek, or Oleopolis, to Pithole City, as already graded and part of the road bed.

3d A connecting link of rail from Oleopolis to Titusville.

4th The proposed road from Titusville to Pithole City the enterprise of Wright & Children is to be put through as soon as practicable.

5th The road from Reno to Plumer and thence to Pithole City.

Verily Petroleum is King, and Pithole is his throne!

ACCIDENTAL INSURANCE.—It may not be uninteresting for the public to know the importance of this kind of insurance. Wm Wrigley, Esq, the Agent of the Provident Life Insurance and Investment Company for this place, informs us that he has in the last two months taken risks against accidents to an amount of over $2,000,000. For a sample of the economy of this kind of insurance, we will state that one company pays women in case of death $500, or in case of disability $1 per week income. Other companies pay $3,000 in case of death, or in case of disability $10 per week income. Six cents per day secures the insured in case of death $5,000, or $10 per week income. Fourteen cents per day, or the price of one sugar, secures the insured $10,000, or in case of disability $50 per week income. We refer with pleasure to Messrs Mills & Wrigley's advertisement.

HOTEL CHANGES.—Major S. Mills, an long and favorably known as the proprietor of the Moore House, has rented his hotel to Major N. Goodrich, who takes possession to day, and who is well and favorably known as the keeper of the Kirk House in Syracuse, N. Y., and several other hotels. ### Ode to Pithole City.

A yeoman of the Keystone State,
For years had battled hard with fate,
But fortune still denied the boon
Until he came to "catch that coon"—
At Pithole.

He came, he saw in years a first day
At most. Not yet enough to say
Of hope. He saw the silver moon!
And showed that he had "catch that coon"
At Pithole.

A farmer he had lived for years
Midst shifting drafts, rents and tears
His fate did but last until he Could strike a well of oil
At Pithole.

Time rolled along with quiet pace,
And calls it crime to view the place
Home, let to work to build a mart
With stocks worth and sells went down—
At Pithole.

A number more to see the spot,
Where all this wealth of oil was got
Did fill their homes and friends forwarded,
Then having looked, returned to hill—
Of Pithole.

An farm little need out come
Not to gain fears, but fame
For surely the pole worth in his name,
While playing at his oily game
In Pithole.

Next came a son of Vulcan here
He in a sad and eager leer
A lawyer and a doctor and
A minister then took his rent—
In Pithole.

And then there came, the town to bless,
A peddler with his knowings,
He came to fruitfully record
The works of man and his reward—
In Pithole.

And now the city is on a long
From north to south from west to east
Hitherto cities can't compare
And everybody wants a share—
In Pithole.

Pithole.

Terrible Steamboat Disaster.

We have to record another of those painful catastrophes which for the harrowing incidents connected with it, have become so frequent in the country.

The steamer Lehigh, one of the finest river steamers in the world running between Albany and New York, exploded her forward boiler on her trip to New York on Sunday morning, about o'clock, at a point nearly opposite the upper portion of New York city. The scene of death and desolation of rending spouts and heart rending unutterable anguish is graphically described in the New York papers. There were eleven persons killed outright by the escaping steam, and nearly all on board more or less scalded or injured.

Thos. Sperry Boots 58 West 126 street, New York city. Mr C. Frehandsmith Montreal, and his little girl. Mrs I. A. Reynolds two years of age, Albany. Mrs H. P. Williams and her two children. John Anderson dock laborer, Joseph Lindsay, fireman, missing. E. J. Lyons New York, Mary Hudson Lyons New York city 23 years of age, besides these are fifteen severely if not fatally injured.

The Hoboken ferry boat of giving a signal of distress, rendered valuable assistance in towing the vessel to her dock foot of Canal street. Here the news having spread through the city scenes of the wildest dismay and confusion took place among the relatives on board, until the safety of the injured ones could be ascertained. Small as had their fears too painfully verified. The wounded received the best medical attendance in the city, but it is feared that many of them will die from the effects of their injuries.

The inquest will be held to-day, when the cause of the explosion will be fully investigated. It is supposed that the engineer was asleep as Mr. B. W. King, a passenger on board states that he passed the engine room several times during the hour previous to the accident, and was astonished to find no one there excepting one man apparently asleep. Should this prove to be the case a summary example ought to be made of him.

ANOTHER HERO VANQUISHED.—A man visited the police office last evening, in an extraordinary state of disheartenment and declared that he had been fired upon by a band of robbers, while returning from Shaffer, and narrowly escaped with his life. While he was relating his story, several of his acquaintances came in and stated that they had left him. They declared that their friend had fired his own revolver at several imaginary robbers and his horse had taken fright and thrown him into the mud. This ended the interview.

REMOVAL.—Mr F. Ralph is now removing his stock of paints, oils, glass, &c., from Spring street to the new brick front on Franklin street opposite the Petroleum House, which he will continue in the same line of trade. Improved fixtures and gas pipes have been laid throughout the building, and Mr R. intends remunerating this article for his own use.

CHRISTENSEN & LAGAN.—This troupe opened their budget of comicalities at Crittenden Hall last evening to a full house and gave evident satisfaction to the audience. The performance is to be repeated this evening with an improved programme. Go and be diverted.

SECOND ASSISTANT OF MR BORSTORD.—Mr Borstord Dunow was resigned to Meadville last Sunday. As he strongly resembles the description given by Mr Borstord of his assistant Mr B. will have the opportunity of identifying him.
